

ISABEL M. PAPP

177 OCEAN LANE DRIVE – APT. 607
KEY BISCAYNE, FL 33149
ipapp24@palmertrinity.org
Tel. +1 (786) 479 3691

Skills Summary

First-year Undergraduate Candidate: Journalism & Political Science

Journalist // Editor // Writer // Actor // Vocalist // Model U.N. Delegate // Aikidoka //Elder Sibling

Education

Palmer Trinity School, Miami Highschool senior

Aug 2020-June 2024

Weighted GPA of 4.2, took 9 AP classes, participated in the musical theater program, Peer Tutor for Center for Writing, Co-Vice President of Thespian Troupe 5458, Secretariat Member for Model U.N., President of the Gaming Club, and Facilitator for Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Meetings (MOSAIC).

Experience

Patricia Eckenrod, author Editor

April 2023 – August 2023

Paid work editing the English version of "El paraíso de esmeraldas" for grammatical errors, flow, clarity, and stylistic choices

Islander News, local newspaper Intern

2020-2023

Translated articles from Spanish, handled deposits, developed pieces for online and print publication, and managed website's backdoor for 35 hours a week, approximately 8 weeks a year in the summer.

Awards and Acknowledgements

I have been a leading actor in seven musical (soprano/alto) and dramatic productions, am a published journalist with three years of experience, recipient of the Brown University Book award, 'Best Delegate' Award recipient during a Model UN Conference, and was ranked as a Top Performing Student at The New York Times Summer Academy (2022). In addition to this, my poetry has won national awards and has been printed in various publications.

OTHER

Languages: Native English and Spanish, learning Greek
Citizen of the United States, Mexico, and the European Union
Interests include Aikido (martial art) and reading